

Storage solutions from a family business

A business with over 22 years of experience in commercial and domestic storage has expanded to offer new facilities in Stratford town centre.

Stratford Self Store has been owned and operated by the Reid family since they founded the business in 2000.

Following an increase in demand for smaller storage spaces, it has opened a container storage site on the Birmingham Road in addition to its main base at Long Marston.

The new location near to the Tesco superstore is convenient for local companies needing additional storage space. Sizes range from 10ft to 40ft, and each container has 24/7 access so clients can come and go as they please.

Offering affordable, flexible and practical self-storage, the service is proving popular with the many businesses that require temporary space to secure items of stock.

The amenity also provides an excellent solution for people looking to free up space in their homes and gardens – especially now spring-cleaning time is here.

Stratford Self Store's Long Marston facility offers a variety of self-storage options, from 35 sq ft up to 200 sq ft rooms. There is also a selection of office space and warehousing to rent. There are plenty of options to accommodate a variety of budgets.

Stratford Self Store also offers additional services to make the site even more convenient for customers - from being able to hire a forklift with driver for goods on/off loading, to being able to receive deliveries on behalf of customers in their absence.

It also works closely with a locally based removals company, and sell a variety of packaging - making everything available in one place.

The business was founded by Cyrus Reid, with the help of his late wife Vera, and is still very much a family affair with his son Orland and wife Heather as Directors of the ever expanding company to the senior management team of his two grandchildren Rachael and Nicola.

They also have staff who have been with them for years.

Operations manager, Krzysztof Skorski, said: "Working at Stratford Self Store is like being part of a big, positive family. I enjoy getting the opportunity to meet so many great customers. My main objective each day is to make the facilities as best as I can for them."

While assistant storage manager Jamie South added: "Stratford Self Store is a nice family run businesses to work for, it's a fun and friendly environment. With over 600 customers using the facility it's great to meet new clients, make sure they are happy and offer them assistance wherever I can."
